LINKING YOUR EVENTS

Each Tank Shock event can be conducted in isolation, but linking them together is a great way to encourage people to get involved. For example, you could run an Engines of War Painting Competition, and then invite participants to bring their newly painted vehicle along to one of the Tank Shock gaming events. You could reward participants with certificates, as well as extra tactical bonuses – for example, those who completed a painting or hobby challenge could generate an additional Elite Vehicle Asset in subsequent Tank Shock games.

ADAPTING YOUR EVENT

The contents of this pack are designed as guidelines for hosting fun and engaging Warhammer 40,000 events, but they are only a starting point. You are encouraged to adapt them in any way which suits your circumstances, and experiment with your own themed community events. You will need to refer to a copy of the Warhammer 40,000 Core Book to make full use of the contents of this pack.
